

Account Type

Not sure what type of account you have? Here is the easiest way to tell:

Individual Account

If your home page looks like this, with four menu items, you have an Individual Account.

Corporate Account

If your home page looks like this, and you have five menu items including a Manager Dashboard, you have a Corporate Account.
